Are We Right For You?

"I've been with Day & Ross for six years and I feel like I'm part of the family. Everyone makes me feel as part of the team, not just another driver. My father-in-law had been with the company for over 20 years when I decided to join Day & Ross. It didn't take me long to enjoy working here. I believe dispatchers are the backbone of every transportation company and, at Day & Ross, they are extremely knowledgeable and professional, which helps me do my job more efficiently through better planning and communication. I like the fact that, at Day & Ross, safety is a top priority and that reassures me that this is a company that cares about people."
